

Course Outline:

“The Day My Life Froze” Urban Refugees in the Humanitarian System

“The Day My Life Froze”: Urban Refugees in the Humanitarian System is a two-day professional development course structured around an intensive in-class educational simulation. The course re-centres the human subjects of humanitarianism in the minds of current and prospective humanitarian workers.

Day 1 (Saturday, July 6)
9:00 am	Sign in and welcome
9:30 am	Introduction: Stakeholders, Motivations, and Stakeholder Analysis
10:00 am	Unit 1 – Re-centering the “Human” in “Humanitarianism”: The Goals and Needs of our “Beneficiaries”
10:45 am	(Break for Coffee)
11:00 am	Unit 2 – Aidland: Humanitarian Culture, Values, and Norms
11:45 am	Field Report - Amanda Siino Eritrean Youth in Cairo
12:15 pm	(Break for Lunch)
1:00pm	Guest Lecturer – Muzna Dureid Liaison Officer for The White Helmets and founder of the “Women Refugees, not Captives” campaign
2:00 pm	Unit 3 – Follow the Money: Donor States
2:45 pm	(Break for Coffee)
3:00 pm	Unit 4 – A Practical Introduction to Power, Privilege & Positionality in Humanitarianism
4:00 pm	Reflection and End of Day 1

Note that this schedule is a guide and may be altered. Day 1 and 2 are scheduled from 9-5 to allow for questions and “deeper dives” into topics of interest to course participants, which may affect timelines.

Day 2 (Sunday, July 7)
9:00 am	Unit 5 – Good Hosts and Good Guests: What Motivates Host States and Host Communities?
9:45 am	Exercise – Bringing It All Together: Stakeholder Analysis in the Project Management Cycle
10:15 am	Introduction to the simulation
10:45 am	(Break for Coffee)
11:00 am	Simulation (4 hrs) Lunch will be taken during the simulation
3:00 pm	Simulation Debriefing / Conclusion: Questions Without Answers
4:00 pm	Reflection and End of Day 2

Note that this schedule is a guide and may be altered. Day 1 and 2 are scheduled from 9-5 to allow for questions and “deeper dives” into topics of interest to course participants, which may affect timelines.